MODIFICATION OF BRITISH PRACTICE MAY COME OF NOTE

Washington, April 6.—A modification of the British practice of action against neutral trade to Germany as issued in the "bread war" was expected to result from the American note declaring the action of the allies unlawful. This was the belief of official quarters today following the publication of the text of the administration's communication. The kindly spirit of the note, it is believed, will have much weight in inducing Great Britain and France to make easier conditions of neutral commerce between neutral ports.

While the American reply is firm in its declaration that the positions of the allies is untenable from a legal standpoint, there is no hint of a threat in it, the strongest expression being the warning that this government will insist that England and France make full reparation for any loss suffered by American shipping through the acts of their naval commanders. It was stated that no further steps in the matter would be taken until the British and French governments have given some official indication of their attitude toward the position of the United States.

President Wilson today stated an early reply from Great Britain to the note was not expected. He told callers that the note did not demand a reply; that it was not argumentative but merely a friendly statement of the American attitude. It would be natural to expect, he indicated, that in the course of time Great Britain would more fully state her own position than in the recent order in council, so that various points of dispute between the two governments might be cleared up.

GERMANY EXPELS GIFFORD PINCHOT

Washington, April 6.—Gifford Pinchot, according to advice to the state department, reached Antwerp, but was not permitted to proceed further in his work as a member of the American relief commission in Belgium, although detailed as a special diplomatic agent of the United States.

The German authorities object because Mr. Pinchot's sister is Lady Allen Johnstone, wife of the former British minister to Denmark, who still is in the British diplomatic service.

Germany has insisted from the beginning that all agents and consuls of the American government in Belgian territory under German military occupation should have no connection, however remote, with her enemies.

It is understood that the state department will assign Mr. Pinchot to other work in the war zone.

them—and was happy. When I entered the ring I knew I was going to win. It was simply a matter of holding Johnson off and wearing him out. I must confess that I was nervous at first but this was quickly worn off. I found that Johnson's blows did not have the effect I had expected. That assured me my plan was right, but I took no chances.

When I saw that Johnson was getting tired I forced the fight. Still I took no chances. "Be cautious," I said to myself. My seconds helped me greatly. I owe much to them and to my manager.

But to the fact that I had lived right I owe most.

I WON BECAUSE I LIVED RIGHT, NEW CAMP DECLARES

Havana, Cuba, April 6.—I won because I had lived right. I hope to be champion for many years by living right. Fighting the booze does not make champions—it destroys them. Jack Johnson was and is a physical marvel, but his strength had been undermined. Dissipation will wreck any man no matter how strong his constitution.

Of course I am happy. Who wouldn't be under the same circumstances? Out went my family. I am waiting my return. I am not happy for myself alone, but for them and what I shall be able to do for them with the money that I shall make.

During my entire fight for the championship I had my wife and children in my mind. When Johnson tried to rush me and put me out I thought of them. When I landed the blow that gave me the championship I thought of

For Stomach and Liver Sufferers

Don't take medicine for your stomach ailments morning, noon and night, as usually such medicines only give temporary relief and simply digest the food that happens to be in the stomach.

Don't permit a surgical operation. There is always serious danger in operations and in many cases of Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Ailments the knife can be avoided if the right remedy is taken in time.

Don't go around with a foul smelling breath caused by a disordered stomach and liver, to the discomfort of those you come in contact with.

If you are a Stomach sufferer, don't think you can not be helped; probably worse cases than yours have been permanently restored by Mayr's Wonderful Remedy.

Most Stomach ailments are mainly caused by a catarrhal condition. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy not only removes the catarrhal ailment, but allays the chronic inflammation and assists in rendering the entire alimentary and intestinal tract antiseptic, and this is the secret of its marvelous success.

Don't suffer constant pain and agony and allow your stomach ailments to physically undermine your health. No matter how severe your case may be or how long you have suffered—one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy should convince you that you can be restored to health again. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has been taken and is highly recommended by Members of Congress, Justices of the Supreme Court, Educators, Lawyers, Merchants, Bankers, Doctors, Druggists, Nurses, Manufacturers, Priests, Ministers, Farmers and people in all walks of life.

Send for FREE valuable booklet on Stomach Ailments to Geo. H. Mayr, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill.

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction, 21

CHAMP GETS OOH

Havana, Cuba, April 6.—While Jack Johnson was the chief financial beneficiary of the fight in which he lost the championship and Jesse Willard realized little, the gold flood has already begun to flow toward the new champion. Jack Curley announced today that he had accepted a theatrical engagement for Willard at New Orleans. This will delay the champion's arrival in New York for at least a week, and possibly two.

KOLB DREW PART OF GRANDSON'S SALARY COMMITTEE HEARS

Montgomery, April 6.—Frazier Kolb, who has served in the office of Capt. Kolb as fertilizer inspector, declared today before the legislative investigating committee that he worked under a private agreement for $125 a month and that he drew $75 a month and Capt. Kolb drew $50. When questioned as to the details of the agreement he told the committee that "it is none of your business."

Young Kolb was cited to appear before the legislature in July on a contempt case. He agreed to answer any questions the legislature might ask if he were shown that the body had legal authority to ask such questions.

G. W. Hewitt, a Montgomery broker, was also cited for contempt to the legislature, but later testified before the committee. He was asked concerning a fertilizer tag transaction where in he had acted as broker for the department.

John Cunningham, a fertilizer inspector, stated to the committee that he had worked for Capt. Kolb in his political campaign for governor. He said Capt. John C. Cheney told him that Len F. Greer was the man to support for commissioner of agriculture, but he himself believed that Wade was the man and that he supported Wade.

"I wanted to be on the winning side," said Mr. Cunningham. He admitted that he obtained a receipt from his wife for a day's board and charged this in his expense account.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Vickers of Abbeville, were visitors to Dothan yesterday, taking in the Sunday School convention, and taking advantage of the many shopping opportunities offered in Dothan.

FRENCHMAN WINS BATTLE IN CLOUDS

Paris, April 6.—Adolphe Pegoud, the famous French aviator is reported to have attacked and brought down a German Taub near St. Menchoud while the was alone on patrol duty April 2.

The report of the incident says that when Pegoud saw the German craft approaching he flew rapidly toward it and sent it to earth with a few well placed shots. He then landed beside it and took prisoner the German pilot and observer, neither of whom was injured.

Early in the same day Pegoud is reported to have driven off three other German aeroplanists, one of whom had dropped nine bombs on a railroad station.

Smith & Morgan REAL ESTATE SPECIAL Wednesday April 7th. 1915

Many people are commenting on the drawing in last week's Collier's, entitled: "The Blessings of Peace."

It is a farm scene: tranquil, quiet, restful; in the rear of the farm house the owner is scattering feed to a large drove of chickens; a grown son is leading two pretty horses to the watering trough; a daughter is preparing to milk a well fed cow; a bunch of pigs are squealing for their evening meal; a flock of pigeons are perched upon the roof of a barn underneath the spreading branches of a large tree; a dairy stands nearby well filled with rich, creamy milk, and with all an air of happiness and prosperity pervades the entire scene.

Overdrawn you say? Not at all. There are plenty of such scenes in the farm life around Dothan.

Don't you WANT a farm? Of course you do. Then consider: right at present is the greatest opportunity to buy in many years. During the uncertainty existing some months ago we took options on some property pretty cheap. Now the tendency is upward, every indication pointing to much better times this fall. Prices are bound to be higher this fall, in fact values are now on the increase. How would you like this for a suburban home?

NUMBER ONE.

40 acres 2 miles north of Dothan. On public road, extra good land, level, stumped, 30 acres in cultivation, 10 acres in fine woodland, with lane running from the barn to the woodland. 5 room house, barn, etc. Several acres around the house planted in satsuma oranges, also some pecans and dewberries.

WE HAVE A PRICE 25 PER CENT LESS THAN WE HAD A YEAR AGO.

You can close now by payment of small amount. Let us show this to you today.

NUMBER TWO.

40 acres 2 miles of Dothan at $17.50 per acre. This is a proposition for speculation. See us about it.

DO YOU WANT A HOME?

A gentleman said to us recently: "I am tired of paying rent." AREN'T YOU? When you see rent day approaching, snail-like but sure, don't you wish you owned your own home? Your home where you can get up in the morning and start a fire in the range, work in the garden while breakfast is cooking, then return in the afternoon after work hours, help prune the rose bushes and watch the flowers grow—around YOUR OWN HOME.

We know you feel this way about it and want you to let us show you several beautiful homes, and some splendidly located building lots, all at a big sacrifice in price and at most liberal terms. Come to see us about this, or phone us and we will see you.

Dothan is growing every day and new people constantly coming in. It is generally recognized that the geographical location of Dothan is going to make it a large industrial and commercial center. Real estate values increase very rapidly here under normal conditions and investments are more certain of rapid enhancement in value than in many larger cities.

DOTHAN HAS A FUTURE!

Come to see us or phone us if you are interested in DOTHAN REAL ESTATE. Don't forget, too, if you have something to sell, give us the right price and we will sell it.

He was a college professor, who was greatly beloved because of his kind heart, but who had the not uncommon scholastic failing of absentmindedness, says the Youth's Companion. One day his married niece favored him for a long time with loud praises of her first-born. When at last she paused for breath, the professor felt that he must say something.

"Can the little fellow walk," he asked, with every appearance of interest.

"Walk!" cried the mother indignantly. "Why, he's been walking now for five months!" "Dear me!" exclaimed the professor again relapsing into abstraction. "What a long way!" must have gone!

A Husband's Confession.

W. Kee Maxwell, in Judge, Yesterday Mirandy voted, But so far I haven't noted That she's sprouted any whiskers or adopted trouserettes; And she hasn't indicated Since she got emancipated That she means to start out riding with a bunch of suffragettes.

Took her half an hour to do it, And as soon as she was thru it, She went hustling home without a stop to scrub the pantry floor;

Cooked the dinner, did some baking, Trussed a dress that she was making,

Mended socks and got the ironing all done by half-past four—

She appears to be as able To keep victuals on the table And to keep the moths from feeding on my go-to-meeting coat—

Just as handy with the baby (Or a little more so, maybe)—As she was before they told her women ought to have the vote.

Now as I've observed Mirandy, She is just as fond of candy, And she seems to read the fashions in the daily household

And she was my "equal,"

And—however strange the sequel— I've been just a trifle prouder of Mirandy ever since.

TO ONE.

Each spring the violets on your grave

The soft green grass makes blue;

Each year the robin's merry note Brings memories of you.

And yet, Dear Heart, no wish of mine

Would call you back to me;

Yours be the lone grave's quiet rest—

And mine life's Calvary!

—Susan Cornelia Connolly in the Southern Woman's Magazine.

HOUSE AND HOME

So bare and born and cold it stood,
And glared through windows blank and gray!
It would have shivered if it could—
The empty house across the way.

But now it's bright with life and love

For human voices call and sing
And down below and up above

The little feet are pattering,
No longer drear it stands and dumb,

For joy and laughter warm the whole.

The empty shell has now become
A home—a house that's found a soul.

—Arthur Guiterman, in Woman's Home Companion.

SAGE TEA KEEPS

YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy, and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this thru the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

GROW MORE LEGUMES

By J. A. McLeod.

The farmer should devote as much of his land each year as it is well convenient to the growing of leguminous crops. This is because these plants, as contrasted with all others, are directly of double value to him, that of serving to feed both him and his land. There is no other plant known which has this wonderful power of serving in these two capacities.

The use of legumes is the most economical method known to build up impoverished, run down soils. By their decay they leave behind large quantities of organic matter, which makes the soil more porous and consequently enabling it to hold more water and have a free circulation of air. Their greatest value, however, lies in the fact that they take the unavailable nitrogen of the air and add it to the soil for succeeding plant use. The fact that leguminous plants have the power of obtaining unlimited amount of nitrogen, the element most essential to plant growth; and the one most expensive commercially, is sufficient reason in itself why the farmer should be an extensive grower of these plants.

Treat Children's Colds Externally

Don't give delicate little children with internal secretions. Vicks' Vapo-Oil, when applied externally, relieves by its action on a vapor and by stimulating the skin. Vicks' Vapo-Oil is the most powerful and reliable remedy for the treatment of colds, coughs, and croup. It is the only remedy that is safe for children.

Besides being such an economical soil builder the legumes have a very high food value. They are all very high in protein while the majority of all the other farm crops are extremely low in this compound. Hence, when used, they tend to balance and therefore materially cheapen the one-sided rations now so commonly used. As all growing animals require a high per cent of protein in their rations for their proper development, the farmer must become an extensive grower of these plants before he can ever hope to successfully engage in the live stock business.

Why Kelly-Springfield Tires cost more to buy but less to own

The stamp of quality is as obvious on Kelly-Springfield Tires as it is on any other hand-made article of genuine worth. It is as inimitable, as unmistakable as the impress of good breeding on a man or woman. But

Kelly-Springfield

Tires are not made so carefully merely to give them an air of distinction; it is mileage that is built into them so slowly and painstakingly by hand. And judged by the acid test of road mileage, Kelly-Springfield Tires are as good as they look. They are built up to a standard—not down to a price-tag.

Hereafter the basis of adjustment will be:

In Ford sizes, plain tread, 6,000 miles; Kant Slip 7,500 miles. All other sizes, plain tread, 5,000 miles; Kant Slip tread 6,000 miles. The word "adjust" is merely figurative, because in 1914 the total adjustment in Kelly-Springfield Tires for the whole United States was less than 1%. You get this unequalled service in uninterrupted mileage—no adjustment.

Before buying some other tire at a lower price analyze the basis of adjustment offered by the other maker—see what you really get for the less money.

The prize fight in Havana yesterday ends the era in which pugilism, the only sport with ethnic after all, reached its lowest ebb in America. The defeat of the negro giant by the western cowboy marks the passing of the last negro who will ever fight an important prize battle in the United States. Public sentiment is so overwhelmingly against white men fighting negroes for money that no promoter will ever again dare to stage any contest of the kind of any notoriety to speak. For public sentiment is what swells box office receipts and box office receipts make pugilistic encounters possible.

The late C. B. Pendleton, a man who didn't know a prize ring from a barn door, figuratively speaking, was asked in a casual way just before the Johnson-Jeffries fight at Reno, who would in his opinion win. After ascertaining that the physical factors were apparently fairly equal and the experience of the men about the same, he remarked that the negro would win. Asked why he thought so, he remarked that in his observation a nigger had always been able to outkick a horse.

And that about sums it up. The negro is physically a more enduring animal than a Caucasian. His frame is built to stand battering. The white man can wear himself out and batter himself to pieces falling away at a negro's head and body, without hurting him particularly. By the same token, biologically speaking, a gorilla would quickly whip a negro of equal dimensions.

There is much to be said for boxing as a sport, even for the professional kind. It is, as stated a moment ago, the only contest we know of where a man doesn't get struck while he is either figuratively or literally down. It is the only sport which gives an opponent in distress a period of immunity, which he may utilize by the simple expedient of dropping to one knee, in which he can recuperate.

Take our much loved and admired game of baseball. It is the most merciless, the most "unsportsmanlike" (in the strictest ethical meaning of that term) game we have. Wrestling, football, even tennis in many of its aspects, hockey, lacrosse, basketball are all games where the idea is to beat the opponent down by unrelenting attack, ruthless advance and the moment he shows signs of weakening or distress that is the time to drive home—and the taking of a foul ball has no relevance. Only in the prize ring does the fighter have a right to a moment's respite.

ful sports—is to be found any disposition to observe the humanities toward the loser.

Although it has been black-guarded by crooks, degraded by money-seekers and gamblers until the wonder is that it has survived at all, it brings the conviction home that it must be a pretty good old game—this business of sparring—to have lived through-out all the vicissitudes it has suffered at the hands of its misguided friends and deliberate debauchers all these years.

Anyhow, it is certain that no negro will ever be allowed again to contend for the title in these United States, and the quicker the career of Jack Johnson, the big Galveston dock wallaper, and the chapter in pugilism which he has dominated, is forgotten the better for all hands. So be it.

The Funny Courts.

Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

A South Dakota judge who believes in the permanence of change, upheld the constitutionality of the federal migratory bird law. A Kansas judge who believes in the permanence of the order that is, declared the same law unconstitutional. When it comes into the next higher court, very likely that court will divide and split with one majority on the subject. And when it gets into the supreme court probably that body also will split and the temperance of the men will decide the law. The law as made by legislatures and congresses is based largely on information and justice. The law as made by the courts is made by temperament; there is equally good law on each side of every controversy, and a man decides in court as he feels. Hence courts don't command the respect they should.

Also, there is a feeling that courts should be under some restriction, so long as they have such great veto power over legislatures and executives. Hence the demand for the recall of judges, and the recall of judicial decisions. Neither expedient ever was advocated by the Gazette with any degree of enthusiasm or at any considerable length. We have always believed that the way to deal with the power of the courts was not to tip over judges, nor to recall their decisions, but to take away their power. No minor court should have a right to declare any law unconstitutional. And supreme courts should have the power to annul legislative acts and federal laws only upon a unanimous bench. They could then stop legislative evils that were real and unquestioned. But law and politics which were mere matters of debate would not be touched.

Jack Johnson didn't bring home the bacon this time; he brought home a bloody bull neck.

Sometimes a stamped out tiger springs up an illicit still.

Startling Announcement

From Mobile.

Down at Mobile Saturday night some one bounded suddenly into the broad sunlight of fame by declaring that "the integrity of the democratic party was threatened," and appealed to the democrats of the state to stay the hand of the vandal.

The announcement of the unearthing of some dire plot to destroy the party will carry consternation to all the people of the state.

It will cause wide alarm.

But it was so sudden. It was unexpected. It came like a bolt of lightning from a cloudless sky. We were shocked. We were shaken from head to heel, from the toe to finger tips. Our nerves were unstrung. O, why did you do it?

Why could not our Mobile watchman on the tower have thrown out the search lights as a sort of warning?

And in making the thrilling announcement that the "integrity of the party is threatened," our Mobile friend failed to furnish us a diagram of the party troubles.

He leaves us in the dark.

We do not know how to treat the disease.

If we only knew we might prescribe and check the disease before it becomes fatal.

But a mass meeting, we are told is to be held on the 9th of April, when we presume the disease that is eating into the vitals of the democratic party will be explained and remedies suggested by the doctors, who seem to have buried into the case so unexpectedly.

But in the meantime we are dumfounded, and will await the diagnosis of the doctors with feverish impatience and grave alarm.

DOING GOOD.

Walt Mason in the Emporia, Kan. Gazette.

"I never was money hungry," remarked the druggist, "but I'd like to have a big fortune because it would give me so many opportunities to do good. Every day I see pathetic cases of suffering which might be relieved by use of money and I haven't the money to use."

"Doing good with money is a most unsatisfactory business," said the village patriarch, "and if I had a big fortune I'd hang on to it. I'd have more friends, and people would respect me. Just as soon as a rich man goes forth doing good with his panthers full of money, the trouble begins. If he gives a big roll to a college or church people say he is trying to square himself with an avenging providence. Nobody will credit him with a good motive, no matter what he does."

Then there's so much ingratitude in the world that the man who does good gets plumb discouraged every once in a while. Last winter old Jim Gaugling's horse died, and you could have heard his lamentations a dozen blocks. He had always made his living by doing light hauling with his nag, and when it died his occupation was gone. So I spent several days going around among my friends, hounding them for money to buy Jim a new horse. They hated to dig up, for times were hard, and nobody's alms seemed to have come in, so it was slow and aggravating work, but finally I raised $40 and went and bought a good serviceable horse with four legs under it, and led the animal around to Jim's, feeling that I had the good Samaritan outclassed.

Well, Jim looked over that horse and said he never supposed he'd be so reduced that he'd have to drive such a critter, and he considered it an insult that I didn't hand him the money and let him buy the horse, and ever since that time he has been abusing me, telling his friends that I played him a low down trick.

I've had that sort of luck nearly every time I tried to do good. Ira Binswager used to be one of our most industrious citizens until he fell sick a few months ago. I heard he was in distress, so I went to his house, where his children were all crying for bread. I handed Ira a ten-dollar bill and told him I hoped it would help keep the pot boiling until he was on his feet and ready for yemen service again. It is a surprising thing, but that money ruined Ira.

"It was the first easy money he ever had, and it looked excellent to him. He has been trying to borrow $10 from me ever since, evidently thinking that I grow banknotes on my gooseberry bushes. He borrows all the money he uses, and never tries to earn any."

"One time I decided to celebrate my birthday by providing entertainment for the whole town, so I chartered the baseball park and engaged an outside team to play the local team. I thought that would endear me to the people as nothing else would. Every man is ambitious to be generally beloved. Well, everybody town was at the game, and the outside team fairly made soup-ones of my home organization, and they wore out a lot of pop bottles on the umpire, and the crowd went down from the benches and put up an old-fashioned riot.

"The town was full of black eyes and flattened noses for a week, and if you could have seen

CALOMEL WHEN DILIGENT? NO! STILL MAKES YOU SICK AND SALVAGE

"Dodge's Liver Tonic" is Known To Clean Your Stagnant Liver and Bowels.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bowels. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile cradles into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodge's Liver Tonic tonight on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodge's Liver Tonic. Take a spoonful of it if it doesn't cleanse your bowels, and make you feel like a new man, and want your money back in the form of your money. Dodge's Liver Tonic is destroying the grip of Calomel, it is real liver medicine, entirely tasteless, therefore it can not calomel make you sick. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodge's Liver Tonic will put your liver to work, and clean your bowels, that your appetite and enjoyment, which is clinging to your stomach, will be restored. Dodge's Liver Tonic keeps your entire family feeling like a new man. Give it to your children. It is harmless. Dodge's grip and stay like a pleasant taste.

the way people looked at me, you'd have wept for me. Even to this day there are people who denounce me bitterly whenever baseball is mentioned."

A Long Trip.

He was a college professor, who was greatly beloved because of his kind heart, but who had the not uncommon scholastic failing of absentmindedness, says the Youth's Companion. One day his married niece favored him for a long time with loud praises of her first-born. When at last she paused for breath, the professor felt that he must say something.

"Can the little fellow walk?" he asked, with every appearance of interest.

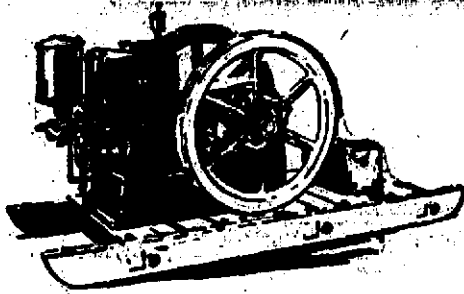

"Walk?" cried the mother indignantly. "Why, he's been walking now for five months!"

"Dear me!" exclaimed the professor again relapsing into abstraction. "What a long way he must have gone!"

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER MACHINES

Another Point or Two About International Harvester Engines

NOTE the frame of this engine. The base carries all the working parts, yet none of them are part of the base. Base and sub-base are separate castings, a precaution taken to avoid unnecessary expense in case of accident. The cylinder also is a separate casting, because a more even thickness of cylinder wall can be obtained in this way. The frame design places the strength where it is needed—at the boxes, where the power is applied to the crank shaft. Provision is made for large, long, substantial bearings, adjustable below and above, keeping the crank shaft always in line.

This base is one of the reasons why I H C engines last such a long time. Nothing can get loose or out of line and there is weight enough to absorb the vibration caused by the explosion. This is one of many features of I H C engines we shall be glad to show you when you come in to see them.

A WONDERFUL

Kidney Trouble

A year and a half ago I was taken with a severe attack of kidney trouble that pained me to such an extent that morphine had to be given me. Was attended by a doctor who pronounced it as Stone in the Bladder and prescribed Lithia Water. I took Lithia Water and Tablets for some time and received no relief from them. I stopped taking medicines for some time, later having some Swamp-Root in the house I decided to try it and felt much relieved. While taking the second bottle commenced to pass gravel in urine until I had passed in all at least a half dozen or more and have not suffered the slightest since—and in all have taken one bottle and a half and feel very grateful to Swamp-Root.

Yours very truly,

SOFT DRINKS IN PLACE OF WINE ON RUSSIAN'S TABLES

Petrograd, April 6—The banishment of table wines by government edict has brought to the fore a beverage which seldom has been used outside the peasant's cottage. It is "kvass." Though it closely resembles lager beer in color, it is more like American root beer in taste, and is also non-intoxicating. The favorite brand is prepared by a special treatment of Russian black bread. It is now served in all the restaurants.

Another incidental curiosity about Russian fare, is the fact that the American griddle cake makes its appearance in Russian for one week only in the whole year. That week is the one preceding Lent. The griddle cake is disguised as a special luxury under the name of "blini." It is eaten plentifully at any or all meals during the week. It is served with a garnish of caviar, thick sour cream and melted butter. The ordinary complement person is a dozen or fifteen "blini," but a stranger is told that the rule is that a person should keep the plate up to the height of his chin as he sits at table. After the "blini" which are served as part of the hors d'oeuvres comes the usual lunch or dinner courses.

THE DOTAN EAGLE

Mr. Alex. Calderell in Southern Woman's Magazine.

I would make a picture for you of the orchard as I last saw it, in full bloom, on one of those rare days which first smiles, and quickly frowns, then dashes tears lightly; when the wind gets merrily into the game, and blows from peach and plum their dainty petals, filling the air with colors as soft and odors so sweet that you gasp in ecstasy, following the volatile beauties of a spring day.

Someone described to me a garden in Georgia. The description was beautiful; I will tell it to you. A path led from an inner court filled with semi-tropical flowers to a sunken garden, which was reached by descending broad stone steps. Here every kind of bulb and flowering shrub bloomed in a riot of color—daffodils, hyacinths, tulips and narcissus, with rows and rows of iris just opening. Vines of jessamine and Southern creepers interlaced the balustrade surrounding the garden. Having reached its confines, elated by so much beauty, you ascended into a flowering orchard in bloom. Cherry blossoms waving soft white streamers from standards, stood like spirit sentinels on either side of the avenue. Peach trees emerged from masses of pink suffusing with color their pale neighbors, the pear trees. Beyond this fairyland, a woodland in its untouched beauty, in tender greens of a budding spring made a wonderful background. Wild flowers were to be found in their native state here. Exotic Italian formalities, the fragrance of orchard, nature pure and simple were all enjoyed, but the quietude of the latter temped one to drop down on the sod and rest.

WOMEN OF THE WORLD BEG FOR PEACE.

Southern Woman's Magazine.
The blasts of war trumpets sounded through the world, and their echo was an outcry from the women of all nations:

"Don't!"
"Don't kill!"
"Don't waste life!"
"Don't send our sons, husbands, brothers, fathers, sweet hearts, to the slaughter house!"
"Don't make women victims of the unpeppable horrors which inevitably accompany the bloody zone of war!"
"Don't! Don't!"

We, over there in Europe, knew that our voices could not carry far in the midst of the deafening noise of a down-breaking world.

Martial law silences not only men, but women, too. Martial law means the end of free press, of free speech, and therefore even of free thoughts. In that killing

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had a severe case of nervous prostration, with palpitation of the heart, constipation, headache, dizziness, pain in my ears, timid, nervous, restless feelings and sleeplessness."
"I read in the paper where a young woman had been cured of the same troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I threw away the medicine the doctor left me and began taking the Compound. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to sit up and in a short time I was able to do all my work. Your medicine has proved itself able to do all you say it will and I have recommended it to every woman I have visited."—Mrs. MARY JOHNSON, 210 Siegel Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Philadelphia, Wis.—"I was nervous, weak, and all run down. I could not sleep for fear, and had such a trembling through me all the time. I got this and soon could not do any work for nearly two years. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and became strong and fully able to do all my work. I have told many people how very good your medicine is, and how it has helped me. I wish every woman who suffers as I did would try it."—Mrs. THOMAS MOWAT, R. D. No. 1, Plattville, Wis.

ADULTTERATION

Walt Mason in Emporia, Kan. Gazette.

"Most of the books people buy may be classed as luxuries," explained the agent. "They are superfluous, bought merely for amusement, and the money spent for them is money wasted. But here is a book that no intelligent housewife can get along without. It will pay for itself a dozen times in a week. It is entitled, 'How to Detect Adulterations.' Are you satisfied that the milk you buy is pure? If not, this book will decide your doubts in five minutes, I vouch for that."

"But who will vouch for you and your book?" inquired Mrs. Curfew. "Suppose I followed its instructions and analyzed the milk, and found it was composed of plaster of Paris and river water. Naturally I'd go to the milk man and point the finger of scorn at him, and express my opinion of him in well chosen words, but if he denied all my charges, and said his milk was like the driven snow, what more could I say? I might shake the book in his face and call his attention to chapter and verse, but if he said the book was a fake, how could I prove it wasn't?"

"I don't consider it safe to go around accusing milkmen and other business men of skulduggery on the authority of a book sold by an agent who may never come this way again to back up his remarks."

"My husband read so much stuff about adulterations that he got all worked up, and imagined that everything we bought contained deadly ingredients. One day he got a roll of butter from the grocery, and it looked as though it had been using peroxide, for it had a sickly yellow color that didn't seem natural. Mr. Curfew took a slice of it to a half baked scientist who was teaching chemistry in the high school, and this scientist paroled and analyzed the butter, and told Mr. Curfew it contained a cheap grade of mutton tallow and other unpleasant ingredients.

"On the way home Mr. Curfew told everybody he met about this shocking discovery and didn't talk about anything else for two or three days. Then he went to the grocery store where he had bought the butter. I happened to be going up the street, about half a block behind him, when he stepped into the store. I thought it was a foolish thing to do, for Mr. Grimshaw, the grocer, is celebrated for his passionate temper and he is a large man and fond of athletic exercises. I thought at the time that Mr. Curfew would have been wiser had he written down his sentiments and shipped them to the grocer by parcel post.

"And just while I was thinking such things, the door of the grocery flew open, and Mr. Curfew poured past me as though he had been fired from one of those coast defense mortars, and he landed in a mudhole in the middle of the street, and everybody in town stood around and heard him using language which had fermented. I never was so ashamed in my life, and I wished the ground would open and let me fall through to China, or some other antipodes.

"I helped him home, and he certainly was a picture, going down the middle of the street, all dripping mud, and with his coat split up the back, and his hat jammed down over his ears so tight that I had to borrow a jimmy to get it off. When a man has always been respected, and has been a member of the school board, and is the parent of two excellent daughters, one of them being married and the other teaching school, it is humiliating to be seen in public in such a condition.

"When he cleaned himself up he started to the police station to have the grocer arrested, but on the way he met a lawyer who said Mr. Grimshaw was going to prosecute him for slander, and it cost him $48 to get out of the trouble, and since then he doesn't take any interest in adulterated food, but eats whatever I give him, with saying a word."

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

POULTRY RAISING IN THE SOUTH

—Mrs. Frank Langford in Southern Woman's Magazine.

The South should be the greatest poultry producing section in America, for nowhere else can such favorable conditions be found. Climate, soil, and grain products combine to make it ideal for poultry work. Poultry can be fed cheaper, housed at less expense, and raised with less work than anywhere else. Our winters are mild enough for the fowls to run out all the time. We have grass or growing green feed of some kind the year round. Green feed is necessary to the successful handling of fowls; besides where the flocks run at large, as they do on our farms, much of the feed is picked up.

Expensive houses are not necessary, where the fowls are confined for several months in winter, and when every bit of the feed must be supplied them.

Wheat, corn, and oats, the best grains for feeding, are grown here and can be produced fully as cheap as anywhere else.
